Investigation showed the alarm of the bookmakers having been due to a casual visit of Mr. Baker, accompanied by Secretary Loeb, to the betting ring. With a party of Governmental personages these dignitaries went into the ring, with the result that in a moment the inclosure became alive with the news of a projected "raid." Shortly afterward Cowan, Mayer, and the oth-

District Attorney Baker was followed about by a curious crowd. Suddenly bidding his friends adieu he plunged into the speculative maelstrom himself. Trainer Garth told him Jack Joyner's Watercress could not lose the fourth race. Then John E. Madden recommended his Lady Tarentella, to which choice Mr. Baker fell. "Til bet you fust $5 on the Lady, Mr. Bookmaker," said Mr. Baker, as he handed up a bill to Bookmaker Bob. Turner at the bill to Bookmaker Bob. Turner at the second water and Waterway also ran. Watercress could not lose the fourth bill to Bookmaker Bob Turner at the paddock gate, "You're on, $20 to $5, Mr. Baker, if this is no test case," rejoined the bookmaker. "Oh, no, I'm here for sport only," replied the District Attorney. Then he moved away, declaring the believed the betting problem quite satisfactorily solved.

The Grand Consolation Stakes, for The Grand Consolation Stakes, for two-year-olds, at seven furlongs, worth to the winner about $3,455, resulted in an unsatisfactory way for the public. Overnight the Kirkfield stable's recently purchased colt, Tourenne, was regarded as a certainty. He had won the Golden Rod Stakes and the Rapping del. Marie, 97; Betsy Binford, 97; Laura A 97. Paso Stakes early in the autumn at New York in handy style, many experts rating him alongside the $25,000 Fountainblue in the matter of class and speed. T. Wilson, of New York, with as good as 8 to 1 against him. Miller, the "Marvelous One," put up a well-judged ride on Monfort and was really responsible for the success of the Wilson colors. On the other hand, Notter put up a rank effort on Tourenne. He permitted the Messrs. MacKenzie's colt to swerve badly and finished next the rail in the deepest going. Following home Monfort was Orphan Lad. a 12 to 5 shot, in the colors of "Dave" Dun lop, the Virginia "Tobacco King."

Miller's Fine Finish.

Tourenne was out of it in the middle part of the running, but he closed strong through the stretch and scored an impressive third. Loring showed the way to the head of the stretch, with Tourenne and Notter away back and Orphan Lad and Monfort together in sechome at the stretch turn. Loring retired and Tourenne closed up, though in the deep path on the rail. In the final the deep path on the rail.
